1 Luca d'Agliano and the Centro Studi

Luca d'Agliano

Luca d'Agliano was born in Turin on July 4, 1961. At the end of the first year of classical high school at the Rosmini Institute in Turin, he decided to finish his secondary education under the provisions of the Sevenoaks International Baccalaureate Programme.

In September 1980, he went up to Churchill College, University of Cambridge, where he read philosophy and then economics under Margaret Bray and Frank Hahn. On taking his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1983, he was awarded a scholarship by the Fondazione Luigi Einaudi, Turin, and was admitted to St. Antony's College, University of Oxford. Here, under the guidance of Amartya Sen, he studied questions relating to developing countries and welfare economics, concentrating mainly on the analysis of collective agriculture systems and the conflict, typical of such systems, between the ethical value of collective production and the pragmatic need to give individuals the incentive to produce.

In Luca d'Agliano's vision: "...economics [is] to be continually carried over into practical applications. [...] For this substantially ideological reason, it becomes important to combine the [...] study of purely theoretical matters with the study of the problems afflicting the developing countries in their struggle against poverty [...]".

Luca d'Agliano lost his life in a road accident in June 1984.

Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano

Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano (LdA) was founded in Turin in 1986 and it is currently located at Fondazione Luigi Einaudi in Turin and at the Department of Economics of the University of Milan.

LdA is a non-profit research institution contributing original research in the field of international and development economics. LdA carries out its activities in collaboration with major international and Italian research institutions and it works through a network of researchers worldwide. Although LdA's main focus is academic research, it also contributes to the policy debate, working for institutions like the World Bank, the European Commission, the United Nations and the Italian Government.

LdA is especially keen in encouraging young scholars to undertake research in development and international economics. It supports Italian students in their post-graduate studies abroad by awarding scholarships, prizes and research grants. It also funds foreign post-doctoral fellows to carry out research at its premises.

LdA regularly organises conferences and seminars and it publishes one of the leading working paper series in development economics.

2 Research areas at Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano

Research at Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano is organised around three main areas: Poverty and Development, Migration, Firms and the International Market. Within each of these areas, LdA carries out a number of projects in cooperation with various research partners and funding institutions. Table 1 provides an outline of the research projects active in 2024 and the corresponding partners.

2.1 Poverty and Development

2.1.1 Research Activity

Research work in this area is concentrated on the study of the determinants and constraints of human capital investment in developing settings. By employing either large or tailored data sources, combined with cutting-edge analytical tools, our projects address some of the urgent policy issues both advanced and less-developed countries face. LdA fellows has been working on one project related to ethnic identity, perceived norms and out-group attitudes. LdA fellows have been also involved in academic and policy work on global issues and development, in particular by contributing to a new UniCredit Report on secondary education in Europe, by looking at the determinants of teenagers' global competences and attitudes towards immigration.

The area is coordinated by Mariapia Mendola (Professor of Economics, University of Milano Bicocca and IZA Fellow). Resident researchers working in this area are Jacopo Bonan, Francesco Campo, Sara Giunti, Andrea Guariso and Giulia Tura. Non-resident researchers include Margherita Comola (PSE), Guido Friebel (Goethe University, Frankfurt), Harounan Kazianga (Oklahoma State University), Riccardo Ghidoni, Carla Inguaggiato and Alessandro Saia (University of Bologna). Doctoral researchers are Irene Solmone and Vitor Cavalcante.

2.1.3 Projects

Debunking Ancestral Narratives: Ethnic Identity, Social Cohesion and Cooperation

Funding Institution: MUR

Partners: University of Bologna, University of Milano-Bicocca

Start/End date: 2023-2025

LdA Researchers: Mariapia Mendola (coordinator), Alessandro Saia, Riccardo Ghidoni.

Goals: The project develops a novel experimental design to explore how perceived ancestral origins (i.e., the alleged place of origin of their own ancestry) drive individual preferences about conflict and cooperation in a diverse society. Misperceptions about the lack of diversity in the ancestral origins are largely driven by historical ancestral narratives (ancestral myths) (Smith, 1984). The project goal is to carry out an experimental survey, combined with the use of Genetic Ancestry Tests (GATs), to investigate the following research questions: what is the role of ethnic identity and ancestral roots in explaining cooperation among individuals from different ethnic groups? How large is the gap between actual and perceived ancestral origins? Is it possible to foster between-group cooperation by reducing this gap?

Beyond the Classroom: Global Competencies and the Path to Higher Education

Funding Institution: UniCredit Foundation

Partners: University of Milano Bicocca

Start/End date: 2023-2024

LdA Researchers: Mariapia Mendola (coordinator), Andrea Guariso.

Goals: The project investigates the role of Global Competencies in the current landscape of education and their increasing relevance in preparing individuals for a successful life in today's rapidly changing, interconnected world. Traditionally, the assessment of educational quality and student success has focused on learning outcomes. Yet, this approach captures only a fraction of what it means to be ready to thrive in today's diverse and dynamic environments. Skills like cultural awareness, effective communication, critical thinking, and the ability to engage with people from different backgrounds are increasingly recognized as essential for personal and societal success. These competencies enhance employability in the global economy and foster social responsibility, ethical engagement with global issues, and adaptability.

- Workshop on: "Firms, Labour Markets, and Development", joint with Fondazione Collegio Carlo Alberto, 28th-29th June 2024, Ortygia Business School, Siracusa (Italy);
- XXII Summer School in International and Development Economics: "Conflict, Social Cohesion, and Development", Taryn Dinkelman (University of Notre Dame and CEPR) and Rachel Ngai (Imperial College London, LSE and CEPR), 4-7th September 2023, Gargonza, Italy;
- Workshop on: "Firms, Labour Markets, and Development", joint with Fondazione Collegio Carlo Alberto, 22-23rd June 2023, CCA.

2.2 Migration

2.2.1 Research activity

The study of the economics of international migration is the second of LdA's research areas. LdA fellows are pursuing several interrelated lines of research that deal with all stages of migration process. A first one investigates the determinants of international migration and the process of migrants' self-selection. A second one deals with the role of destination-country policies in determining the size and composition of migrants' and refugees' flows as well as in determining the speed of their economic integration and investigates the political economy of immigration policy. In another stream of research, LdA fellows investigate how public policies can shape individual attitudes toward migration. Finally, a long-standing research line focuses on the consequences of immigration for receiving as well as for origin countries.

Research in this area is coordinated by Tommaso Frattini (Professor of Economics, University of Milan). Other LdA researchers working in this area are Francesco Fasani (University of Milan), Elisabetta Lodigiani (University of Padua) and Anna Rosso (University of Insubria). Pre-doc researchers are Gabriele Cugini, Angela Dalmonte and Sofia Giorgini.

2.2.3 Projects

Migration Observatory

Funding Institution: Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo

Partners: Fondazione Collegio Carlo Alberto

Start/End date: The project has been running since 2016, and its funding is renewed yearly.

LdA Researchers: Tommaso Frattini (coordinator), Gabriele Cugini, Angela Dalmonte.

Goals: Promoting analytical knowledge on topical issues such as the wider economic and social impacts of immigration on receiving and sending countries and the implications of different migration policies, from an international and cross-disciplinary perspective. Strengthening research links between LdA and CCA and facilitating interdisciplinary migration research. Positioning Collegio/LdA as a central actor in migration research, with the two-fold objective of becoming highly visible in the policy debate and constructing a critical mass of academic knowledge.

Global Strategy for Skills, Migration and Development (GS4S)

Funding Institution: European Commission

Partners: FIERI

Start/End date: 2023-2026.

LdA Researchers: Tommaso Frattini (coordinator), Sofia Giorgini.

Goals: GS4S seeks to better understand global skills shortages in the digital, care, and construction sectors, and to foster skills development through innovative analyses. The project proposes multi-level evidence-based policies on labour migration governance and alternative ways for addressing these shortages in six regions: EU, EEA, Western Balkan, Middle East and Northern Africa, West Africa, and South/South-East Asia.

Webpage: <https://gs4s.eu/>

Irregular Migration: Origin Countries and Border Controls

Funding Institution: MUR

Partners: University of Milan, University of Rome “La Sapienza”

Start/End date: 2023-2025.

LdA Researchers: Tommaso Frattini (coordinator), Francesco Fasani.

Goals: The project aims to analyse the causes and effects of migratory flows. In particular, the project will study various dimensions of irregular migration to, within, and from Libya and document the socio-economic and health effects of the conflict-induced internal displacement in the country. It will also analyse the role played by European border enforcement policies, as well as more broadly by European migration policy, on the size, composition and direction of irregular migration flows.

“From Schools to Labour Markets: Fostering Social Inclusion and Economic Integration of Migrants and Refugees”

Funding Institution: MUR

Partners: University of Milan, University of Pavia

Start/End date: 2023-2025.

LdA Researchers: Francesco Fasani (coordinator), Tommaso Frattini.

Goals: The project will study the determinants of the social and economic inclusion of migrants and refugees in Italy. In the one hand, it will study what policies can promote the educational inclusion of the children of migrants. On the other hand, it will analyze the economic effects of naturalization and the characteristics of asylum seekers' reception that foster their socio-economic integration.

- Presentation of the paper: "From Refugees to Citizens: Returns to Naturalization and Labour Market Outcomes", Paris School of Economics (PSE), 2023.

2.3 Firms and the International Market

2.3.1 Research Activity

Within this area, LdA fellows have been working extensively on the firm-level determinants of competitiveness and internationalisation, in particular on the role of non-tariff trade barriers as one of the main obstacles to firms' internationalization. Barriers such as quotas, packaging conditions or not-uniformed sanitary conditions may limit trade activity of firms and affect a wide range of firm-level outcomes (such as firms' population, productivity and exports). We compare non-tariff trade barriers with tariff in order to evaluate the effect of different types of protection on the domestic producers, and we also look into the impact of firms' organization on firms' performance and asks how internal capital and labour markets operating within business groups affect firms' resilience to positive and negative shocks.

The LdA team has also been investigating the role of dynamics of frontier and laggard firms in relation to the environment in which they operate with a focus on finance and quality of governance, looking at whether leaders and laggards make a different use of these inputs and whether this difference is strengthened for peripheral laggards.

The area is coordinated by Gianmarco Ottaviano (Professor of Economics, Bocconi University). Resident researchers working in this area are Giorgio Barba Navaretti (University of Milan), Giulia Felice (Politecnico di Milano), Emanuele Forlani (University of Pavia), Paolo Garella (University of Milan), and Anna Rosso (University of Insubria). Junior researcher is Tommaso Fonti.

2.3.3 Projects

Leonardo: LEAP (Programma Fornitori e le Politiche Industriali Italiane ed Europee)

Funding Institution: Leonardo S.p.A.

Start/End date: 2021 - 2024

LdA Researchers: Giorgio Barba Navaretti, Gianmarco Ottaviano, Fabiano Schivardi, Borisav Markovic, Tommaso Fonti, and Federico Pessina.

Goals: Our first goal involves analyzing the impact of the LEAP programme. The LEAP programme is an investment made by Leonardo aimed at reducing the dependency of its suppliers. Leonardo's supply chain is extremely complex and consists primarily in Italian SMEs. Their small size, low exports, and dependency on Leonardo's orders for their survival raised concerns around limited innovation and falling efficiency. The second goal of this project revolves around an analysis of the national and European defense industrial policies. The aim is to provide Leonardo with an in-depth understanding and framework of these policies. Using statistical matching techniques, the analysis shows LEAP's positive effects on innovation, research, and governance

Productivity and Non-Tariff Measures

Partners: Paris School of Economics (PSE); University of Paris-Dauphine - PSL; Università della Svizzera Italiana

Start/End date: 2018 - 2024

LdA Researchers: Giorgio Barba Navaretti, Lionel Fontagné, Giovanni Pica, Gianluca Orefice, Anna Rosso.

Goals: The aim of the project is to produce improved understanding of Non-Tariff Measures (NTM) and empirically testing their impact on international investment and trade, together with their effects on a variety of social and economic outcomes, including their impact on income and inequality. We analyze the NTM from the perspective of both protected and harmed individuals.

2.3.4 Dissemination

Conferences and Seminars

- “Global Challenges” International Workshop: “Industrial Policy and Trade Disruption”, 25-26th November 2024, SDA Bocconi;
- Organisers: Centro Studi Luca d’Agliano, BAFFI CAREFIN – Bocconi University, CEPR, and the Department of Economics, Management and Quantitative Methods (DEMM) – University of Milan in collaboration with the Department of Economics, Managements and Statistics (DEMS) – University of Milan Bicocca, the Department of Management, Economics and Industrial Engineering (DIG) – Politecnico di Milano, and the Department of Economics of the University of Insubria;
- Funding Institutions: UniCredit Foundation and Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo as part of the "Global Challenges" network; Achille and Giulia Boroli Chair in European Studies – Bocconi University;
- At the Frontier: “Building Resilient Global Value Chains”, 1st June 2024, Festival Internazionale dell’Economia, Fondazione Collegio Carlo Alberto;
- "European Research Workshop in International Trade (ERWIT)" and "Conference on Urban and Regional Economics (CURE)", 5-8th June 2023, Fondazione Collegio Carlo Alberto;
- Organisers: Carlo Altomonte (Bocconi University, Baffi Carefin Centre and LdA), Giorgio Barba Navaretti (Università degli Studi di Milano, LdA, CCA and CEPR), Beata Javorcik (EBRD, University of Oxford and CEPR), Diego Puga (CEMFI and CEPR), Gianmarco I.P. Ottaviano (Bocconi University, CEPR and LdA);
- Funding Institutions: UniCredit Foundation and Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo as part of the "Global Challenges" network; ERC Grant No. 789049 – MIMAT; Achille and Giulia Boroli Chair in European Studies – Bocconi University;
- Goals: The 2023 joint event of ERWIT and CURE aimed to foster a dialogue among international economists and urban and regional researchers, leveraging the growing overlaps and synergies in these fields. The program covered a wide range of topics including international trade dynamics, urban economic strategies, and regional development challenges. Through engaging discussions and pioneering research presentations, the event discussed how microeconomic activities influence macroeconomic outcomes across different scales and geographies. The event featured sessions that explore innovative approaches to global economic challenges, aiming to advance theoretical and empirical knowledge in international trade and urban economics.

3 Publications

3.3.1 Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano Development Studies Working Papers

The Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano publishes a series of working papers in Development Economics. Their publication is funded by the Bank of Italy. The Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano Development Studies Working Papers can be downloaded from the LdA website, www.dagliano.unimi.it, and are also available on the SSRN (Social Science Research Network) eLibrary. Tommaso Frattini is the editor of the series.

Since 1997, 267 of the manuscripts that have appeared in the Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano Development Working Papers series have been published, i.e. an average of 10 papers per year (see Table 2). Of these, 238 have appeared in refereed journals, while 29 have been published as chapters of edited volumes. To give an idea of the quality of the research output, in Table 2 we have reported information on the main outlets, and the number of articles which have been published in each journal.

To measure the impact of the different publications, we have used two well-known rankings. The first one has been assembled by the Tinbergen Institute in the Netherlands and assigns three possible grades to each journal. The top five, general interest journals (American Economic Review, Econometrica, Journal of Political Economy, Quarterly Journal of Economics, Review of Economic Studies) together with the Journal of Finance, have received a “AA” ranking. Top field journals and very good general interest journals appear under the “A” category, while second tier general interest journals and field journals appear in the “B” category. Overall, about 130 journals in economics, finance and business are ranked by the institute. The second ranking is the one proposed by Kalaitzidakis et al (2003)<sup>1</sup> in an article that appeared in the Journal of the European Economic Association. This study is based on a recursive impact factor methodology (see column 5, Table 1, page 1349). As shown by the table, the ranking proposed by the Tinbergen institute and the one by Kalaitzidakis et al (2003) are highly correlated.

Of the 238 papers which have appeared in refereed journals, 173 have been published in journals with rank B or above. While only 8 papers have been published in a top-five journal, 26 articles have appeared in leading general interest journals like the Review of Economics and Statistics, the Journal of the European Economic Association and the European Economic Review. 31 have been published in top field journals like the Journal of Public Economics, the Journal of International Economics and the Journal of Development Economics. This research output easily positions LdA as the leading research centre in Italy focusing on international trade and development economics, and as one of the leading centres in Europe specialising in this area. Besides carrying out cutting edge academic research, LdA has been involved in the active dissemination of research output in the policy arena. Several papers have been published in leading policy outlets like Economic Policy, the World Bank Economic Review and World Development.

3.3.3 European Economy. Banks, Regulation and the Real Sector

“European Economy – Banks, Regulation, and the Real Sector” is a journal to encourage an informed and fair debate among academics, institutional representatives, and bankers on the current banking regulation framework and its effects on banking activity and the real economy. It is resuming publication in 2021 thanks to the financial support of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo and Bank of Italy. Centro Studi Luca d’Agliano is the publisher of the journal.

The journal aims at being an outlet for research and policy-based pieces, combining the perspective of academia, policy making and operations. Special attention will be devoted to the link between financial markets and the real economy and how this is affected by regulatory measures. Each issue concentrates on a current theme, giving an appraisal of policy and regulatory measures in Europe and worldwide. Analysis at the forefront of the academic and institutional debate will be presented in a language accessible also to readers outside the academic world, such as government officials, practitioners and policy-makers.

Each issue of the journal “European Economy” will consist of: i) an editorial section, introducing the topic, its relevance and summarizing the key critical questions emerging in the pieces, and providing the reader with a birdseye view on the key numbers, regulatory measures and readings on the subject; ii) articles, generally written by prominent academics and representatives of institutions and banks. These will partly be position papers, partly pieces summarizing the main items of the academic and institutional debate.

4 Training at LdA

4.2 Scholarships and prizes

LdA devotes particular attention to training young students to acquire the background necessary for a professional career in development research, by providing them with financial assistance in the form of scholarships or by including them in research projects.

Scholarships

A yearly scholarship of 10.000 Euros, offered by Luca's family, has been awarded through the Fondazione Luigi Einaudi in Turin to young Italian graduates who wish to advance their studies in development economics. From 2006, thanks to the generous support of one of Luca's close friends, the scholarship has covered two annuities. From 2024, the scholarship is no longer offered.

Table 3 provides a complete list of the scholarships awarded in the past.

Prizes

The Centro Studi's annual prizes are awarded through Churchill College, University of Cambridge, and St. Antony's College, University of Oxford, to students displaying "ability in their studies, particular interest in the problems of developing countries, humanity and altruism".

A similar prize, assigned to a student from Sevenoaks School (Kent), was discontinued in 1994.

Cambridge (£. 500)

In 2023 the award was assigned to Razan Amine ( Lebanon).

Past prizes were assigned to: C.M. Bramall (1986, Great Britain) and X.H. Zang (1986, China); S.V. De S. Gunaratne (1987, Sri Lanka) and L.Wang (1987, China); A. Basu (1988, India), H.L. ### 4.3 Post and pre-doctoral fellows

Within the several funded projects in which it participates, LdA has undertaken an intense training activity. Since 2000, a number of experienced researchers, post-doctoral and doctoral fellows have been hired and actively contribute to its projects, for a total of 178 men/months (see Table 4). Training has also taken place in the summer schools and doctoral conferences organised by LdA. 681 students have participated in LdA summer schools since 2003, with 189 of them coming from developing countries. The two editions of the Riccardo Faini conference were attended by 62 doctoral students, 12 coming from developing countries. Moreover, several Ph.D. students of the Doctorate of Economics of the University of Milan have been working at LdA: Rosario Crinò, Anna De Paoli, Valeria Groppo, Elisabetta Lodigiani, Marcella Nicolini, Gianluca Orefice, Angelica Salvi, Maria Teresa Trentinaglia, Fatma Usheva, Alessandra Tucci.

4.4 Summer Schools in International and Development Economics

A series of yearly Summer Schools was first established in 2003 by the Centro Studi Luca d'Agliano, jointly with the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR) and the Department of Economics of the Universities of Milan and Turin.

They are open to 30-40 doctorate and post-doctorate students in economics and related disciplines from all countries, who are selected from a pool of 90-120 applicants by an international selection committee. 681 students have participated in LdA Summer Schools since 2003, with 189 of them coming from developing countries.

From 2003 to 2006, the Summer Schools were organised and funded within the activities of the EC Research Training Network on “Trade, Industrialisation and Development (TID)”. From 2007 to 2010, as part of the Marie Curie Research Training Network on “Transnationality of Migrants (TOM)”, and in 2011 within the Marie Curie Initial Training Network on “Globalisation, Investment and Services Trade (GIST)”. From 2012 to 2015, the summer schools were jointly organised with the Paolo Baffi Centre on Central Banking and Financial Regulation (Bocconi University). From 2016 to 2022, the Laboratory for Anti-Poverty Policy (LEAP) at the Bocconi University has been a scientific partner together with the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR), DEMM – University of Milan, DEMS – University of Milan Bicocca, Cattolica University, Vilfredo Pareto Doctoral Program in Economics of the University of Turin. In 2022, a new scientific partner, the International Growth Centre (IGC), funded the participation in the summer school of two young researchers from its international network.

The Twenty-Third Summer School in International and Development Economics on “Political Economy and Development” took place from 3rd to 6th September 2024 at Castello di Gargonza (Tuscany, Italy). Claudio Ferraz (University of British Columbia, PUC-Rio, and NBER) and Sandra Sequeira (London School of Economics and CEPR) presented their recent works. 34 Ph.D students, young researchers and post-doc researchers from all over the world working in the field of development and international economics attended the Summer School. ## 5 Luca d'Agliano Lectures in Development Economics

The Luca d'Agliano Lectures are organised each year also thanks to the generous support of Fondazione Compagnia di San Paolo of Turin. The aim of these Lectures, which have always been very successful, is to favour the diffusion of the ideas of some of the most important scholars in the field to a non-specialised audience. They also represent an important opportunity for bringing together members of the Scientific Committee of the Centro Studi and many of its former scholars. Past editions of the Luca d'Agliano lectures were all conceived and introduced by Riccardo Faini. In 2007 the Fifth Lecture on “Does Outsourcing Change Everything?” by Paul R. Krugman (Nobel Prize in Economics, 2008) was, in his memory, opened by Jaime de Melo.

The Twenty-Second Luca d'Agliano Lecture by Thomas Philippon (Stern School of Business, New York University) on: “Regulating Market Power and Big Tech on the Two Sides of the Atlantic” took place on 31st May 2024. Since 2023 the Luca d'Agliano Lecture has been organised within the framework of the Festival Internazionale dell'Economia di Torino (30th May – 2nd June 2024). In this lecture, Professor Philippon outlined the principles that should guide competition and trade policy in the age of artificial intelligence. He reflected on the experience of EU competition policy, noting its benefits but also highlighting the inherent challenges and risks of regulating the tech industry. As emerging “Star” firms grow increasingly dominant, scientific research plays a fundamental role in swiftly assessing the impact of regulation, evaluating its costs and benefits, and addressing both global market power and the rapid pace of technological change.

Table 6 provides a complete list of LdA Lectures past editions.
