For further information and teaching material, please refer to: <https://dagliano.unimi.it/>.

Participants

The school is targeted to graduate students, doctoral students and post-doctoral researchers in economics and related disciplines. Students are expected to attend the school full time.

Fees and Scholarships

Participants will be charged 650€ covering registration, accommodation (double rooms), meals and background material. A limited number of fee waivers can be assigned to students from Developing Countries.

Applications and deadlines

The participants will be selected by the Selection Committee on the basis of the information included in the application forms.

Depending on the programme, there might be a few slots for students' presentations, and priority will be given to those going on the Job Market this fall.

Applications can be downloaded here and should be submitted to centro.dagliano@unimi.it. The deadline for submission is May 19, 2023. Late applications will not be accepted. Applicants will be informed by email about the results by June 19, 2023.

Location

The school will take place at Castello di Gargonza, a medieval village and historic residence in the world-famous Tuscany countryside. The 13th century fortified hamlet is surrounded by more than 600 hectares of forest, olive groves and vineyards and overlooks the Val di Chiana. It is the perfect place for summer schools and conferences, as all the facilities are offered in the same place.

Gargonza is also the ideal destination to discover Tuscany. It is located 100 km south-est of Florence between the beautiful cities of Siena and Arezzo. Local information will be provided to participants in due course.
